AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 25th day of September, A. D. 1918.
Present: NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Petitioner: Estate of Peter S. Kalden, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.
Peter S. Kalden, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased, is deceased in Court and died a testator, leaving for the reasons therein set forth, that administration be granted upon the estate of said deceased, alleged to be intestate.

Whereupon, it is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, on the 26th day of September, A. D. 1918, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the said hearing be given to the parties to the said petition, and to the creditors of said estate, by publication in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least three days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to the Court.

NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER,
Clerk.

Quite a lot of political work is being done under more or less deceptive camouflage. We doubt whether people at large take the least interest in it. It is confined to the politicians who refuse to be "adjusted" to the new situation that the war has no standing in Connecticut. Gov. Holcomb has been the finest war governor any state has had. Connecticut has led the way and set the pace for all the there. In our opinion the voters wouldn't think of making a change in leadership under which this distinguished record for patriotic readiness and efficiency has been made.

FAVORITES WIN IN STRAIGHT HEATS

Columbus, O., Sept. 26.—Two western horses, Verlie Patchen and Lillian T., won the feature races today in the Grand Circuit, the former taking the Arch City State purse, $3,000 for 2.10 pacers, and the latter winning the 2.03 pace. Both victories were straight heat affairs but the competition was good enough to make the favorites step close to their records to keep their noses in front. While Verlie Patchen paced in 2.03 in the middle heat her traveling to the half mile pole in a minute flat in the third heat showed that she still was fit to carry her extreme speed. Continuing to the three quarters pole at a near two minute clip, she "killed" off her pursuers and came home almost at a jog in 2.03 1-2.

Summaries:
2.03 pace, three heats, purse $1,200:
Lillian T. (Whitney) 1 1 1
Baxter Lou (Valentine) 2 2 2
Evelyn King (Whitehead) 3 3 3
Holly Bingen (McMahon) 4 4 4
Vince Bingen, Jack Kist, Alie Ashbrook, Gay Todd, Mary Ward Extra Bingen, Hermes and Alacer B. also started.
Best time 2.07 3-4.

2.10 pace, The Arch City Stake, purse $3,000. 2 in 5 heats:
Verlie Patchen (Pallin) 1 1 1
Ed Chimes (J. Fleming) 2 2 2
Billy Jackson (Murphy) 3 3 3
Windsor Todd (R. Stout) 4 4 4
Un-A-Game of Chance, Calvary Earl and Abbe Bond also started.
Best time 2.03 1-2.

2.08 pace, three heats, purse $1,000:
Della Alcantara (McMahon) 1 1 1
Van Hedgewood (Swain) 2 2 2
Bonnyard (Reed) 3 3 3
Betty Blacklock (Rafferty) 4 4 4
Rex De Forest, Charlie M. Dolly R., The West, Onward Sam and Pacing Patch also started.
Best time 2.05 3-4.

SHOOT 'EM WITH BOTH EYES OPEN, SAYS "SOUSA"
Shoot with both eyes open and get 'em every time.

That's the advice of John Philip Sousa, sometimes known as a bandmaster, sometimes as Lieutenant Sousa, U. S. N., but for the moment speaking as translocator of long experience and for some years president of the American Amateur Trapshooters' association in his own kitchen.

The trapshooters are in high gear just now because shotguns have been playing an important part in the re-education of the mind. The mind is a part that the Germans were provoked to the point of calling them barbarians, there being some subtle distinction in the German mind between scattering shot with a shotgun shell and with a shotgun shell.

The load they are reported as using in the shotguns in the trench war is a two-inch plank at 100 yards, covering an area of nine square feet. The Germans can never stand against our marksmen. We are too good shots," Sousa believes.

Isn't it instinctive to close one eye when sighting a rifle?
"You are instinctive, but most instinctive things are wrong. We have to specially train and put checks on our instincts all the time, and shoot—"

"Why should you use only one eye when shooting? Do you look at a pretty girl with only one eye? Do you shoot an enemy with only one eye?"

"No, sir, my boy, keep both of your eyes open when you shoot—rifle or shotgun. Nature has taken care that one eye will be the actual sighting eye. We call that the pilot eye—and that the other will remain passive. The arrangement of vision varies in different people."

And to demonstrate this point Sousa made the interviewer sight an object across the room through a finger ring, keeping both eyes open.

"Now close one eye."
The interviewer did so, and the object was still in range.

"Now the other."
The object appeared a foot out of range.

"That merely shows that in your case the right eye is the pilot eye. But your passive left eye, if you kept it open, would be roving around doubting your horizon and free to detect the slightest motion elsewhere."

"Let a Hun stick his head up three feet away from where you happen to be, aiming with one eye closed, and you'd probably never see him. And you want to see all the Huns you can when you've got a gun handy."

"So, I say, shoot with both eyes open."

PETER THE GREAT'S LINEAGE QUESTIONED
As Peter the Great has proved the great sire of racing speed that the world has ever seen everything pertaining to him or his ancestors is of interest. Also as it has been shown recently that a portion of his pedigree as it now appears in the American Trotting Register is bogus, every item throwing any light on same is valued highly by those who have seen or heard of the sire of Mabel Trank, Miss Harris M. Hollywood Bob, Chestnut Peter and a host of others.

Peter the Great was got by Pilot Medium while his dam Santos was sired by Grand Sentinel out of Shawson formerly Lady Duncan, by Ocean forer. It is stated in the Trotting Register that his third dam was Swallow by Joe Hooker out of a mare by the Sam Johnson horse. The Joe Hooker cross should be struck out. The following are all of the known facts in regard to the dam of Shawson.

She was named Dixie, not Swallow as stated in the Register, and was owned by Benjamin Gill, who is still living in Clarksville, Tenn. Dixie was sired by a back saddle horse called Creole that was owned by Col. Sam Johnson of that town. Creole was foaled in 1881 and left Louisiana by steamer in October. It sailed up the Mississippi river to Memphis, where it landed and marched to Bowling Green, Ky., in February, 1882.

It was ordered to support Port Donaldson on the Cumberland river. Grant took the fort, however, and the steamer was captured and bivouacked on the old fair grounds at Clarksville, Tenn.
